Other Cases Not "Models."

Department of Justice officials do not feel that the Supreme Court decisions in the Oil and Tobacco cases will decide the Steel case. Attorney-General Wickersham to-day declared he is convinced more than ever that each case must be settled upon its own merits, and that the Oil and Tobacco cases cannot fairly be called "mødels" for solving the trust question.

Mr. Wickersham was asked to-day if he hoped to see business returned to the conditions of competition which prevailed before the first trusts came into existence.

"I do not," he replied. "I cannot, because I do not think, it possible. We cannot return to our awaddling clothes. We must readjust to a new get of conditions entirely."

"Do you think that can be done."

ther upssetting business?" he was asked.

"I hope so," replied the Attorney-General, "but I do not know."

"It ought to be made 'clear," continued Mr. Wickersham, "that there is no conflict in the Steel case between the Department of Justice and the Stanley committee of the House of Representatives, which has been investigating the Steel Corporation. That committee has been conducting its investigation in determine what legislation may be desirable to meet the economic question raised by trusts and combinations; the suit flied by the Department of Justice is a legal proceeding to compel the observance of the law."

When the Attorney-General was sked if he hoped the Steel Corporation would volunteer to readjust its organization, and avoid further prosecution of the sult, as has been done by the International Harvester Company, the Electrical trust, the Southern Grocers trust and some other combinations he included that he combinations he included that he combinations ern Grocers trust and some other combinations, he indicated that he expected ine such concillatory move on the part of the Steel Corporation.

Department of Justice officials think it will be a fight to the finish. Mr. Wickersham declined to say if he is preparing or considering criminal prosecutions of any of the defendants in the case.

It was intimated at the Department of Justice to-day that the government considers its case practically complete. Special agents who have worked for the past two years or more still are kathering some-loogs ends, but on the whole the Atterney-General feels confident in going to trial on what evidence has been obtained,

No Need for Haste.

Trenten, N. J., October 27.—The legal machinery set in motion here yesterday by the suit against the steel corporation has lain idle to-day, awaiting the word from Washington. Three-score subpocnaes issued early to-day to be served upon defendants scattered all the way from the seaboard to St. Paul, had not reached the office of the United States marshal, where deputies were waiting to depart with them, at the hour of closing this afternoon. Word also went out this afternoon from the office of the United States Circuit Court that they would not be released to-morrow without orders.

Reosevelt is Silent.

New York, October 27.—Theodore Roosevelt flatly declined to-day to make any comment whatsoever on the steel trust case. He greeted interviewers smillingly, but to all their questions said repeatedly, with his usual emphasis:

"I have nothing to say."

"Have you read the petition?" the colonel was asked.
"If was read to me." and Mr. Berte.

"It sets forth that you were deceived with regard to the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company deal. Are you going to let them get away with that?" was suggested.

"You can't charm me into saying one word," said Mr. Rooseveit, snapping his teeth.

"Well, aside from the Tennessee Coal and Iron matter what do you think of the expediency and common sense of the suit as a whole".

"Not one word," said the ex-Pres-

Southern Pacific Railroad officials here were notified to-day of the inding of thirty-six sticks of dynamite in a frog on the track at Ellwood, Cal., a few moments after train No. 18. a southbound passenger, had passed the switch. Part of the dynamite was pulverized, evidently having been ground by the car wheels. The dynamite was found within a few miles of the bridge where a similar cache was planted when President Taft's train passed October 17.

With his departure from Milwaukes for Chicago to-oay, President Taft practically brought to an end the last leg of his swing around the circle as it was originally planned at Washington and Beyerly.

To-morrow the President will start in on a strenuous three-day program at Chicago, and on Tuesday he will wind up the original trip at Pittsburg, the engagements that he has made toliowing that being quite distinct from those of the present journey.

In the forty-one days that Mr. Taft has been on the road he has made, according to the official stenographers, more than 250 speeches and has discussed all sorts of subjects.

The tariff vetoes of the woolen, farmers free tree and cotton bills, the tariff hoard and its composition, the relation of government to business, reciprocity—in the early stages of the trip—peace and arbitration, have been the main topics that the President has used, but on many occasions he has turned to farming, to the operations of the government departments, conservation, the public eye.

Mr. Taft has spoken to all sorts of crowds. Some of them have run over the 100,000 mark; others have been closer to 100. Through it all the President has kept in fine voice, and only once of twice has it become even husky.

To-day Mr. Taft looks almost as
